

ABSTRACT

A wafer, having at least a spindle region and at least two through regions alongside the spindle region, is provided. The wafer in the spindle region is partially removed from the bottom surface. Thereafter, the bottom surface is bonded to a carrier with a bonding layer, and the wafer in the through regions is completely removed from the top surface.